Course Structure:

This course is aimed at students with some prior knowledge of:

- (1) keeping track of economic transactions in the accounting records (i.e., bookkeeping);
- (2) basic financial statements which summarize a firm's economic transactions (i.e., the balance sheet, the income statement and the statement of cash flows), and
- (3) fundamental concepts needed to prepare or understand published financial statements (e.g., use of accrual accounting).

Exploiting your prior knowledge, the course aims to prepare students for the half-semester core course in financial accounting, ACCT 621.

Preparation for class:

Students should come to class having done the assigned reading and having worked the assigned problems. Classes will employ a lecture and discussion format with questions strongly encouraged.
